the letters usually received from the Russian prince, five originals of which are in No. 1763. The lower margin (under the sign manual) is left vacant, as though the great seal were to have been placed there: but the letter is so folded and pierced as if the signet were to have been set on the outside, and it does not seem to have been sent. The long titles of the prince are written (and partly gilded) on the back.

No. 1782.

A small roll of vellum, seemingly not older than the XVIth or the XVIIth century, containing 32 pages, each about 2 inches wide and 15 lines deep, neatly written in the square character: it is mounted on a handle of dark brown wood, in which the space, left for the roll to be wound upon, is three inches long.

תוסס. The Book of ESTHER in Hebrew; in the separate form used in the Jewish synagogues at the feast of Purim.*

* 14 and 15 Feb. See Lhuys's Catalogue, num. 8464—5, where with this roll (formerly marked 'B. 43') are mentioned "Phylacteria capitis et manus, item Tuba Judaica ex cornu arietis, et Flagellum castigatorium ex triplici corio," marked 'B. 42, 44, 47:' but they are not now in the Museum. All these were given by Professor Pocock, and are more amply described in the Register of Benefactors, under the year 1692, together with his Turkish robe, which was then given after his death.

No. 1783.

A very large sheet of paper, the inner side of which is fairly written all over in two broad columns, in a French hand of the XVIIth century, and thus headed—

"Reigle, Statuts, et Ordonnances qui doivent estre observez au Jeu du Paillemail."

Beginning thus—Estant le Jeu de Paillemail, l'un des plus honorables et anciens de tous les autres, y prenant leur plaisir les Roys, Princes, et grands Seigneurs. etc. Subscribed thus—"Martin fecit 1621." "Ex labore præmium." It lies between ff. 50—51 of No. 1763, being fixed to the latter of those pages.

No. 1784, 1785, 1786.

Three original documents, written on open sheets of paper: whereof the two first are richly flourished with gilding at the head and down the sides, and written also in much more elegant manner than No. 1538 and 1539; they are also much more copious: the third is only adorned with a large capital letter of gold and red, and a head-line of colored letters.

Three Letters missive, in the Russian language and character, "to her Matie [Queen Elizabeth] from the EMPERO^R OF RUSSIA,"* on matters of state and commerce.

* Thus were the two first indorsed by a contemporary hand. The second has a direction on the back in Russian. The seal was impressed in red wax, on the margin of the first and second, behind: the third has no vestige of a seal.

The first was a most beautiful document when it came to this Museum; but having been damaged by some liquid, it was injudiciously pasted on a large printed sheet, and was so mutilated that it is now divided across, and carefully pasted on the two pages 51^b and 52^a of No. 1763, where also are fixed the others, at 53^a and 54^a. Their dimensions respectively are, 26 inches by 16, 21 by 17, 15³/₄ by 12¹/₄; that of No. 1539 is 22²/₈ by 16³/₄; but No. 1538 is less, and its margins are mutilated.

No. 1787.

The articles, now composing this small folio volume, were formerly bundled together in the closet, and marked 'A. 32—35.'

- I. II. Two Chinese printed books; the second subscribed thus—"A Chyna Almanack. Given me by M^r Coley, 28 Sept. 1680. E. Ashmole." ff. 1—82^b, 83—98^b.

The first is in octavo, on thin yellow paper; the second on white paper, in folio, and printed with blue ink: the leaves of each are double, being printed only on one side. The last leaf of the second book is yellow on one side, and it seems that the other outside leaf is lost.

- III. "A breefe Catalogue or Illust[ratio]n of the Revenewes of all the Nobles of Japon, the Emperour and his sonne ex..... wth somme few other petty Lordes, rated by the numbers of cokes of ryce h[ereafte]r discribed: every cokes of ryce being in value 7^s 6^d. in sterling money; the number of shires* whereunto Japon is divided being 66." f. 99^a.

* 'Or provinces'—added by the same old hand as this indorsement, "Revenewes of all the Kinges of Japon." This article is very neatly written on one page of a large leaf of eastern yellow paper, which is much like to vellum: the heading is a little damaged. The number of names is '72.'

- IV. 1. Landscapes, trees, and ornamental devices, delicately cut in paper. ff. 101^b—109^b, 111^a, 119^b.

Fixed on colored papers, pasted on the back of ten leaves, and the front of one. At f. 108^b is a very small and beautiful representation of Actæon's metamorphosis.

2. Twenty-three pairs of small prints, representing divine love, and other subjects of religious contemplation, with texts from the Latin Bible, and French verses. f. 110^b—117^b.

The graver's name is Mich. van Lochem: they are pasted in threes on the back of these eight leaves, as are the next in pairs, by the same artist.

3. Portraits of "Jean Francois de Gondi, premier Archevesque de Paris: Louys Cardinal de la Valette: Louys de Bourbon, Comte de Soissons: Cesar de Bourbon, Duc de Vandosme:" with verses under each print. f. 118^b.

Ff. 100, 121, are the covers, of old marbled paper.

- V. 1. Two pictures of female costume, one of a fool, or juggler, one of a man, and one of a mermaid. f. 123^a—6^a.

They are painted on card, pasted on these leaves: but the colored part of the first is all peeled off.

2. Specimens of colored and variegated papers. ff. 126^a, 129^{ab}, 130^a, 131^{ab}, 133^a—4^a—5^a, 137^a—138^a—9^a, 140^a—1^a.
3. A palm-leaf (as prepared for writing), wrapped in eastern paper. f. 131^a.
4. Two leaves of a printed Chinese book. f. 132^a.
To the last leaf, f. 142, nothing is attached.

No. 1788.

A folio volume, containing 187 leaves of fair paper, ruled with red lines for the margin: except ff. 65, 134—148, 151—160, which are of different papers and sizes, it is for the most part fairly written by Ashmole's hand, and many leaves are vacant.

1. "The Compendious Rehersall of JOHN DEE his dutifull declaracōn and proof of the course and race of his studious lyfe, for the space of halfe an hundred yeares, now (by God's favour and helpe) fully spent; and of the very great injuries, damages and indignities, w^{ch} for these last nync yeares he hath in England sustained (contrary to her Mat^{ies}: very gracious will and express commandm^t;) made unto the two hoble: Commissioners, by her most excellent Mat^{ie}: hitherto assigned, according to the intent of the most humble Supplication of the said John, exhibited to her most gracious Mat^{ie}: at Hampton Court, anno 1592, Novemb: 9. Redde rationem villicationis tuæ. Luca. 10." f. 7^a, 8^{ab},* (pp. 50,) f. 10—34^b.

* Copy of the said Supplication, and note thereof: the 2 last pages contain an account of the effects of this humble, full and candid exposition of his remarkable life, services and losses. Under the title is this note:—"Copied from the original, remaining* (* Sub effigie Vitellij C. 7.) in Sr: Robert Cotton's Library, a^o. 1673, by me E. ASHMOLÉ." Hearne has printed the whole, from Dr. Smith's transcript, in the second volume of his Johannes Glastoniensis, appendix iv. pp. 497—551.

2. JOHANNIS DEE "Præfatio Latina in Actionem primam ex 7 (habitam 10 die Aprilis Præge) etiam in Latinum conversam sermonem, an^o: 1586." etc. f. 37^a, 38—64.

A fair transcript from the original MS. in No. 1790, i., by an amanuensis of Ashmole's.

3. Letter from Dr. N. BERNARD to Dr. Casaubon, concerning his book of Dr. Dee's actions with spirits, and Abp. Usher's opinion thereof, ('Graies Inn, Nov: 14. 1658'); Sir JOHN COTTON's note confirming that statement of the opinion; and "A letter written by Dr: Casaubon, and entred in a blank page before the s^d booke." f. 65^a.

Copied by Ashmole (on a leaf of different paper here inserted) from the originals, found in Casaubon's own copy with his notes, borrowed of the Earl of Anglesey in Dec. 1672.

4. JOHANNIS DEE ad Guil. Camdenum epistola proluxa, qua Roberti Turnerii contra ipsum furti literarii accusationem refellit; de Ursonis aphorismis agit; tum de se, de numero mystico '120,' et de charactere mystico Δ , quo seipsum designare solitus est; postremo, nomina quedam apud Giraldum Cambrensem corrigendo, prospiciam longam describit, a Roderico magno vigesimum secundum in recta linea se asserens fuisse ortum. (Mortlaco, 7 Aug. 1574.) f. 70—6.

"The original is in the Library at Dublin in Ireland, whence Mr. William Shippen, now (1677) Minister of Kirkhethon neere Wakefield in Yorkshire, took a copy, and from thence I caused this transcript to be made," (says Ashmole at the beginning,) by the same hand as art. 2.

5. "The contents of the chapters of Dr: DEE's booke, intituled* Of famous and rich Discoveries etc:" f. 78—9^b.

* "In Biblioth: Cotton: sub effigie Vitellij C. 7." These long titles of 24 chapters (except the first 5 which were wanting) were copied by Ashmole from the original MS.; an extract from which was published by Hearne with art. 1, pp. 552—6.

6. "A Supplication to Q: Mary, by JOHN DEE, for the recovery and preservation of ancient Writers and Monuments;" with the scheme of a Library for that purpose, in articles, exhibited by him, 15 Jan. 1556. f. 80—1—2.

Transcribed from the same MS. Printed also by Hearne, ibid. appendix iv. pp. 490—5.

7. "Notes of some other pices of Dr: DEE's, bound up in the booke intituled Vitellius C. 7. in Sr: John Cotton's Library." f. 82^b.

With a note of his corrections of Sigebert, in Vitell. C. ix. The next 49 leaves are vacant.

8. "The copy of a letter from Dr: [W.] AUBRY (one of the masters of requests to Q. Elizabeth) to Dr: Dee, upon his perusal of the British Monarchy." (Kew, 28 July 1577.) f. 132—3^b.

See No. 1789, ii. and iv.

9. Medicina "Ad cancrum curandum. Ex literis quibusdam celeberrimi viri, Domini BARTHOLOMEI CARRICTERI, Maximiliani Imperatoris medici;" etc. seu ad Joannem Dee epistola, scripta 'Viennæ pridie natalis Domini, a^o 1564.' f. 134—5^b.

A fair transcript, almost as old as that time. Four leaves of an original paper have been torn out, between this sheet and the next article, which occupies the first and the third page of four quarto leaves.

10. Two horoscopes set on the nativity of Dr. John Dee, (born at London, 13 July 1527); one reckoned 'Ex ephem. Tubingæ,' the other 'Calculated from Mr Streetes tables.' f. 136^a, 137^a.

Partly by Lilly (?) partly by Ashmole: see also No. 1790, iii. art. 19.

11. Super nativitatem D. Edouardi Kelei (1 Aug. 1555; Wigorniae nati,) JOHANNIS DEE horoscopus. f. 140^a.

A copy by Ashmole is in No. 1790, f. 59^b; he published it in his Theatrum, p. 479, almost in fac-simile of this original, omitting the aspects of the planets noted above it, and these words after 'Philosophus'— Δ novi, quo modo.

12. ASHMOLE's speculum of the aspects of the planets in Dr. Dee's horoscope. f. 141^a.

Two leaves printed alike on both sides, 'by James Cotterel, at the back-gate of the Red Lion in Leather-lane' London: the first pages only have been used.

13. Particulars concerning Dr. Dee, extracted from Hollinworth's book of Antiquities of Manchester,* from two Registers of the College there, whereof he was Warden, and from John Darrell's printed tract about persons vexed by the devil, 1600. f. 143—4^b.

* A MS. in the College-Library there: the author had copied all his account of Dr. Dee out of Ashmole's Theatrum. See the next article.

- *14. Letter to Ashmole from his 'affectionate brother II. NEWCOME,' communicating the foregoing paper, making remarks on it about the family of Prestwich, (one of whom was Dr. Arthur Dee's wife,) and complaining of the destruction of writings belonging to Manchester College, which had been long offered unto it by Dugdale, but were at length burnt at S. Paul's. (Manchester, 11 Feb. 167 $\frac{2}{3}$.) f. 145^a.

With direction and seal of arms on f. 146^b; in quarto, as also art. 13, which is not written by the same hand.

- *15. "Mr: AUBREY's account of Dr: Dee, which he recd: from Goodwife Faldo of Mortlack [in] the begining of January 167 $\frac{2}{3}$, and delivered to me the 27 of the same moneth. E. A." f. 147—148.

A sheet written by Aubrey's own hand, and thus indorsed by Ashmole, who has added some interlineations.

- *16. "11 Aug. 1673. The effect and substance of some discourses [which] I [E. ASHMOLE] had with Goodwife Faldo now living at Mortlak, who was 12 yeares old when Quene Eliz: dyed; she knew Dr: Dee well, and her mother dwelt neere him, in the same towne." f. 149^{ab}.

- *17. Some few memoirs of Dr. Arthur Dee, written by his friend Sir THOMAS BROWNE, M. D. f. 151—2.

The third page of this sheet is thus subscribed by Ashmole:—"Recd: 29 March 1674, 4^h: p. m. from Dr. Browne of Norwich, directed to Mr Ashmole." Published in Sir Thomas Browne's Works, by Wilkin, (London, 1836, 8vo.) vol. I. pp. 465—7.

- *18. Letter from Sir T. BROWNE to Ashmole, promising to send his alchemical books, (if desired,) which were given to him by Dr. Arthur Dee; with some notice of that alchemist, and mention of Mr. Stanley. (Norwich, 25 Jan. 1658.) f. 153^a.

With direction and seal of arms on f. 156^b: it incloses two quarto leaves, containing—

Sir T. BROWNE's Catalogue of eight alchemical MSS. and one printed book. f. 154^{ab}.

The letter and inclosure are both printed in the work above quoted, pp. 463—5.

19. Letter from MARGARET BOSWELL* to Mr. Nich. Oudart, stating that, on her husband's death, his 'study' was disposed of by his nephew Mr. Will. Raymond, and that she knew not of any MSS. of his. (Bradbourne, 19 Jan. 1672.) f. 157^a.

* Widow of Sir William Boswell, who had Dr. Dee's MSS.: see f. 151, and 158; also No. 1790, f. 57. This letter is very coarsely written, in quarto, and has a direction and seal of arms on f. 158^b. On the third page are—

ASHMOLE's notes about the occasion of this letter, and his inquiry of Raymond's successor in the Paper-Office (Sir Joseph Williamson), whether any of Dr. Dee's MSS. were there. f. 158^a.

In the preface to the "State Papers" published by the Royal Commission, (1830, 4to. vol. 1. p. xv.), it is said, "How long Boswell lived, does not appear."

* 20. Letter from WILLIAM FOWLER to Lord Burghley, accompanying 'a boxe wthc the ower and order of the sylver myndes,' intrusted to him by Mr. (after Sir Edward) Kelley, at Prague, whom he expected to find return with Mr. Dyar: with an abstract of the news about the Turk's movements, etc. (Hamburgh, 7 and 9 Mar. 1589.) f. 159^a.

Directed, and sealed with a merchant's mark, on f. 160^b; where is an indorsement by a clerk's hand. The last 27 leaves are vacant.

No. 1789.

A folio volume, consisting of two parts (divided by 8 leaves of blank paper), or two principal MSS., the former of which includes a MS. in octavo, and one sheet of paper; which last excepted, all the contents are written by Dr. Dee's own hand.

I. Four couplets, addressed by the author to Lord Burghley, and subscribed "Δ." f. 1^a.

"Primi Quatridui Mysterium:" a frontispiece to the ensuing work. f. 2^b.

A triangular figure, having sentences of holy writ inscribed in gilt letters on its blue border; within which is drawn a planisphere of the Ptolemaic system.

"A playne discourse and humble advise, for or gratious Queene Elizabeth her most excellent Ma^{tie}. to peruse, and consider: as concerning the needfull Reformation of the Vulgar Kalender, for the civile yeres and daies accompting, or verifyeng according to the tyme truely spent." By Dr. JOHN DEE. (pp. 62.) f. 3—32.

This curious book is fairly written in secretary-hand, and adorned with rubric. At the foot of f. 1^a is this note:—"This booke was given mee by Sr Kenelme Digby: it was written by Dr: John Dee and upon ye death of Mr Allen of Oxford came to Sr K. D. hands, and he gave it me. 1635. Fui Jo: Bookerj." The leaf paged 3—4 is lost. No. 179, vii. was evidently transcribed from this original.

II. Dr. W. AUBRY's letter "To his verie lovinge coosen and assurede freende M^r John Dee at Mortelake," on reading his book about increasing the naval force of this country. (28 July 1586.) f. 33—4^b.

A small folio sheet, seemingly the original letter; whereof Dee's transcript is at the end of that book, (f. 116 of this volume,) and Ashmole's in No. 1788, art. 8.

III. *A prologue to the reformed calendar, (7 st. of 4), beginning—

"As Cæsar and Sosigenes,
The Vulgar Kalendar did make,
So Cæsar's pere, our true Empres
To DEE, this work she did hetake." f. 35^a.

Dr. DEE's Calendar for the "Annus Reformatio-nis" 1583, (May—Dec.) showing how the eleven days of excess should be cut off, the principal feasts, the places of the ☉ and ☾, the Roman reckoning, etc. f. 36—9^b.

* "A Memoriall, what is done, and what ought to be done, in this Reformation." (2 st. of 4), beg. The yere reformed was: by DEE. f. 41^b.

The 7th and last leaf (f. 42) is vacant.

IV. "General and rare Memorials pertayning to the perfect Art of Navigation: annexed to the Paradoxal Cumpas, in playn: now first published: 24 yeres, after the first invention thereof." 1576. By Dr. JOHN DEE. f. 50^a, 51—115.

This title is written within an oval frame, (inscribed with the author's motto, Plura latent quam patent, see No. 1788, art. 1, p. 27—8), surmounted by the royal arms, and occupying one-third of the page above a large picture, neatly drawn also in ink, circumscribed thus—ἹΕΡΟΓΑΤΦΙΚΟΝ ΒΡΥΤΑΝΙΚΟΝ. The book begins with "A necessary Advertisement, by an unknown frende, given to the modest and godly readers; who, also, carefully desire the prosperous state of the Common Wealth of this Brytish Kingdome, and the political securitie thereof;" (ff. 51—8^b) wherein Dee's character and studies are defended, and many interesting facts are related of him, especially at f. 55^{ed} (a paper fastened to the leaf). It is dated 5 July 1577; but the work itself is noted as 'first begonne' 1 Aug. 1576, and is inscribed to 'Mr Christofer Hatton:' (f. 59^a) its running title is, 'The British Monarchie:' this seems to be the proper name of the first book, which was designed to be introductory to a second book, (the Memorials) that is not here, and perhaps never was written. Toward the end (ff. 107—114) is inserted a whole oration of GEORGIUS GEMISTUS PLETHO, in Latin: the first leaf of which is nearly all torn away, and many leaves, before and after, are mutilated. Between the last written leaf and 4 vacant leaves, (which are, as all the others of this MS., ruled with green lines,) is inserted a sheet, containing—

"The true copie of M^r Doctor AWBREY his letter" concerning this book. f. 116—7^b.

Transcribed by Dee himself, from the original at f. 33, and subscribed with the title here given. See part ii. above.

No. 1790.

This volume consists of a collection of papers put in an old pair of covers, by Ashmole, and of others that have been found loose in the Library: to the former description belong parts I—IV., VII., and a portion of VIII. They have been recently bound together in a folio volume. The first part is a thin book, with covers of grey paper, (ff. 1—2, 21), on the first of which is this inscription:—

- I. “Præfatio Latina in Actionem (primam ex 7) habitam, 10 die Aprilis Pragæ, et jam in Latinum conversam sermonem a^o. 1586:” auctore D. JOHANNÆ DEE, cum ipsius Actionis cum Spiritibus narratione. ff. 1^a, 3—10, 12—19^b.

“Δ. An ista Actio, habita 10 Aprilis: an illa quæ habita est 30 Aprilis sit a nobis æstimanda Prima, nondum certum sum. In illa enim (de 30 die) dicebatur de 7 Actionum semestralium institutione. Considera.” This note is also on the cover, as part of the title given above: the MS. is fairly written and corrected by the author. A fair transcript is in No. 1788, art. 2; and at f. 42 in this volume is an extract.

II. Original papers relating to Dr. DEE’s Actions with Spirits:—

1. “1588. Janua..... Liber exercitiij Heptarchici. Trebonæ.” f. 22^a.

“Heptarchia Mystica. Trebonæ anno 1588 collecta et conscripta tali quali methodo.” f. 23^a.

Written on grey paper as covers; the one leaf is much decayed; on the back of the other is a note about a mystical scroll found at Norwhicke, by an other old hand. See f. 62^b.

2. Rough notes of the actions on 11 and 14 March, 15 March, and 29 April, 1582. ff. 24^a, 25^{ab}, f. 26^{ab}.

Written on coarse greyish paper.

3. “Notes for practise;” or, some passages in the actions, which Dr. Dee thought most observable. f. 27^{ab}, 28^a.

Rule by “Δ for the describing of an heptagon.” f. 28^a.

4. A Catalogue of antient countries, in two languages: beg. “Occōdon Ægyptus.” f. 29^a.

* In 30 classes, each containing 3 names, with names and numbers thus—“Lil 1. Arn 2. Zom 3:” which seem to be considered as climates, from this superscription, “Aeres 30.” Written on the first page of a sheet, by Dee, within which is placed an other sheet much decayed, containing—

5. De rebus theo-mysticis quædam notæ. f. 30^a.

Tabula in qua sunt xiv. “Ordines sanctorum, Angeli 12 signorum,—10 spherarum,—7 planetarum—7 elementorum,—4 ventorum.” f. 30^b.

Tabula Angelorum diei et noctis pro omni hora, et quatuor tempestatum. f. 31^b.

6. Some mystical words explained. f. 32^a.

Written on part of a long strip of paper, by the same old hand as f. 23^b.

III. ASHMOLE’S observations and collections concerning Dee’s magical or spiritual transactions; and collections concerning Dr. Dee, his son Arthur, and his associate Sir Edward Kelly:—

1. “Notes for practise,” concerning the manner of the actions etc.; extracted from the accounts of those on 22 Dec. 1581, and in 1582. f. 34—5.

2. Other remarkable passages, 18 Apr. 28 Mar. and 29 Apr. 1583, also from ‘pag. 188.’ f. 36^a, 37^a.

3. Sentences of invocation, and concerning the power of prayer; from the actions of 21 Mar. 1582, and 28 Apr. 1583. f. 38^a.

4. Seven precepts for preparation unto the work. f. 39^a.

5. Quo modo venit ad Kelleum vox, et qualis, in actione prima Pragensi. f. 40^a.

Copied from the first part of this volume, f. 10^a.

6. A short tract “Of the nature of this work,” consisting of extracts from the sayings of the Spirits in Dee’s actions, arranged in three chapters. f. 41^a, 42—3^b.

The title quoted above probably belongs to ‘Chap. I.’ only, as the two chapters on the second sheet are headed—“Concerning the Practical Part.”

7. “Some notes of the use and practise of the Booke composed from the exposition of E. K. vision.” f. 44—5^b.

From pp. 189, 168, etc. of the printed book.

8. Notes and expositions of some part of the pretended Angelical Books. f. 46^{ab}.

9. Ashmole’s investigations of the mysterious names of God and Angels, from those books; dated “10 Oct. 72.” f. 47^a.

10. How Ashmole found out the name of the Angel Baligon, and other names, from the tables, “16 Aug. 1673.” f. 48^a.

11. Description of ‘the Books’ containing the transactions with Spirits; and account of the “Things comitted to the custody of E. Kelley.” f. 49^{ab}, 50^a.

“See the Action of 10 Ap: 1586.”

12. Actionum, a 22 Dec. 1581 ad 23 Maii 1583, tempora; prout in libris quinque, et quinti appendice, narratæ fuerunt. f. 51^{ab}.

Compare the next article.

13. “A Catalogue of such of Dr. Dee’s MS: as are come to my hands.” f. 52—3.

The first 6 articles, mentioned herein, are the same as in the foregoing leaf: 7—18 are those published by Casaubon, which Ashmole had compared with the originals, and 19—23 are “Other Manuscripts” of the same kind. Printed by the Camden Society, with Dr. Dee’s Diary, (1842, 4to.) pp. 87—89.

14. Memorandum (22 Sept. 1687) to look at the Cottonian MS. of Dee’s ‘Rich and famous Discoveries;’ and other notes about Dr. Dee. f. 54^b.

15. “The dimensions of Dr. Dee’s holy Table preserved in Sr. John Cotton’s Library;” and complete description thereof. f. 55^{ab}.

16. "Colours in Dr: Dee's holy 'Table:'" also, dimensions and description of the pedestal. f. 56^a.

The latter part is on a paper fixed on this leaf.

17. Two figures set by Dr. DEE* on the nativity (10 Mar. 1535,) and 55th revolution (20 Mar. 1589, st. novo) of "Dominus Wilhelmus Rosenbergius, heros." f. 57^a.

* With his own hand; on a small paper fixed on the upper part of this leaf, which was formerly folded in quarto, the following article being on the first page.

18. Note that Sir W. Boswell had Dr. Dee's MSS., and that his widow was living at Bradborne in Kent. f. 57^a.

See her letter in No. 1788, art. 19.

19. Figure set by Ashmole, on Dr. Dee's nativity. (13 July 1527.) f. 58^a.

Not so exact as either of the schemes in No. 1788, art. 10. The lower part of the leaf is a paper joined to this; containing—

20. Nota de tempore quando Arthurus Dee natus est. (13-14 Jul. 1579.) f. 58^a.

Same as at f. 63.

Note about Sir E. Kelly, and his sister, who was known to Lilly's teacher, John Evans. ('2 Aug. 75.') ib.

21. "Sr Ed: Kelly's nativity," as set forth by Dr. DEE. f. 59^b.

Copied from No. 1788, art. 11, (which see;) and thus indorsed.

22. A story "How Sr Edw: Kelly came by the elixir." f. 60-1.

Written (and thus indorsed) by Ashmole, '1 Febr: 165 $\frac{1}{2}$,' but long after subscribed with this note:—"But this relation is wholly confuted by the Bookes and Actions with Angells written by Dr: Dee, and since that tyme come to light. E. A."

23. Notes of some transactions of Dee and Kelly, in 1582-3, 1587-8. f. 62^{ab}.

On a quarto leaf.

24. "Notes taken out [of] Stadius Ephem:* wherein they are written wth Dr: Dee's owne hand," concerning his marriage, (5 Feb. 1578,) and the birth and accidents of his son Arthur, to 2 Dec. 1600. f. 63^{ab}.

* See No. 487, 488, in this Library.

Notices relating to Arthur Dee, "In Dr: Napier's Diary,"* 20 and 29 May 1602. f. 64^a.

* No. 221. This article is on a quarto sheet.

25. Letter of commendation from THO. RODES "To the most worthy son of hidden philosophy, Doctor Arthur Dee, principall Phisitian to the Emperour of Russia, upon his Chemicall Collections." f. 65^{ba}.

A transcript by Ashmole.

IV. Some of ASHMOLE'S Correspondence relating to Dr. Dee and his family:—

(The rest whereof may be found in No. 1788, artt. 13-19.)

1. Letter to Dr. Arthur Dee of Norwich, under the signature of 'James Hasolle,' inquiring whether he were the author of the Fasciculus Chemicus, of which he (Ashmole) was then printing a translation under that anagrammatic name; and what relation he bore to Dr. John Dee. (23 Jan. 1649-50.) f. 68^{ab}.

A fair copy by Ashmole's hand, on one leaf; attached to which is the original of—

2. Dr. ARTHURE DEE'S answer,* declaring that he was the author, and was sorry that a translation of any Hermetic book should appear in print; that Dr. John Dee was his father; and that he would speak with Ashmole in the next week, at his son Rowland Dee's shop in Butler's court, Lombard-street. (Norwich, 31 Jan. 1649.) f. 66^a.

* Directed "To his worthy freind Mr James Hassolle at Mr Edward Dods at the signe of the gun in Ivey lane." (f. 67^b.) It is sealed with arms. See art. 8.

3. Letter from ROBERT STERRELL, 'Chaplain to Lord Roberts,'* stating that he and his wife had returned safe, and that on his relating to his Lord 'the miraculous retrieve of Dr Dee's 3 first books,' he earnestly wished to peruse the originals, or to have a transcript; also that his 'Lord hath a very rare liberarie and many choice manuscripts.' (6 May 1678.) f. 69^a.

* See the direction of the following article, to which this is attached like art. 2 and 1. It is sealed with arms. On the third page is—

A figure set by Ashmole, to decide on his answer; dated 1 May (June?) 1678. f. 70^a.

4. ASHMOLE'S answer, urging his 'resolution to keep them within his own hands while he lived,' and his refusal of more than a sight of them 'to divers noble persons and some Bps.:'; but promising to show them to Lord Roberts if he should be called to Parliament, where he had 'hitherto appeared by proxy.' (1 June 1678.) f. 71^{ab}.

How they came into Ashmole's possession appears by the following note in his Diary, "Aug. 20 [1671]. My good friend Mr Wale sent me Dr Dee's original Books and Papers."

5. Another letter from ROBERT STERRELL, taking Ashmole's refusal in good part, and requesting farther correspondence about these matters; with a postscript describing his lodging in the 'gate-house,' where he had two stocks of bees in the leads; requesting Ashmole to procure a boarded hive with glass windows. (Landhidrock, 22 June 1678.) f. 72^a, 72^b.

Sealed with arms on f. 73^b.

*6. Letter of ANTHONY WOOD to Ashmole, thanking him for Mr. Davenport's letter, and stating that he purposed to mention Dr. Dee in the list of authors noticed in his Athenæ, and that when in London he had sought in vain the registers of parishes about Bishop's-gate street, and the Prerogative-Office, for a notice of his death. ('Oxon. S. Steph. day.' 1673.*) f. 74^a.

* Indorsed by Ashmole, "Letters 1673" (f. 75^b); bearing this post-mark DE. 27; and sealed with Wood's crest.

7. Short note from the same, stating that he could not find 'y^e letters betw. Dr Dee, Gwyn, and Davis;' that Dr. Barlow cared not to speak about 'that book,' and therefore desiring 'y^t Meredith Lloyd may be examined more' about its being given to the Prince of Tuscany. f. 75^a.

A small paper, without Wood's signature, now pasted on the third page of the foregoing letter. It is mentioned by Gutch.

*8. ASHMOLE'S letter to Anth. Wood, communicating the particulars of the life of Dr. Arthur Dec. (27 Feb. 1684—5.) f. 76—7.

A draught or copy, much torn and damaged.

V. 1. "FORMAN abbreviated:" or the substance of Dr. Forman's treatise of the eighth and ninth heavens, extracted by Ashmole. f. 78—82^b.

Written on '3' successive sheets, with good margins: the next article is a continuation, from the same MS. No. 244, on three sheets pinned together.

2. "Of the motion of the 8 sphaere, called the motion of trepidation, or access and recess;" from Dr FORMAN'S MS. f. 84—8.

3. FORMAN'S directions to be observed "In setting a figure by the 8 sphaere. f. 90^a.

The first page of a separate sheet, within which lie 5 quarto leaves, containing—

4. Various notes and calculations, made by ASHMOLE from FORMAN'S MS. f. 91^{ab}, 92^a, 93^b, 94^a, 95^{ab}.

5. "An example of setting or reducing a figure to the 8 heaven, at the ☉ ingress into ♀ 1607," from FORMAN'S MS. f. 97^a.

6. Excerptum de motu octavæ sphaeræ secundum Thebitum Ben Chora, e 'Tabulis Bergensibus per Johannem Stadium, p. 23.' f. 98^a.

7. Tabularum trium apud Alphonsum, et duarum apud Stadium, tituli. f. 99.

Tabularum quarundam notuke de 8a sphaera, e vetusto codice.* ib.

* "At the beg. of the booke wherein is the note of II. 5." and at f. 28,—viz. No. 393, art. 1.

The foregoing papers, artt. 1—7, were found loose in No. 244, after f. 59; and the next paper was found at f. 96.

8. Calculations of the motion of the eighth sphere, in the year 1600; from the Alphonsine and Copernican tables. f. 100^a.

Neither by Forman's nor by Ashmole's hand; probably Sir Rich. Napier's.

9. FORMAN'S Preface "To the reader," and "The testimony of the author," prefixed to his discourse of the Plague. f. 102^{ab}, 103^{ab}.

Copied on a folio sheet by Ashmole, and found loose in the quarto MS. No. 1403.

VI. 1. Notes of sundry diseases and medicines, "Excerpted out of Dr: NAPIER'S bookes of Horary Questions for diseases," from 22 Aug. 1599, to 14 July 1633, by ASHMOLE. f. 104—106^b.

Other notes, under the head of 'Death,' from 1598 to 1606, and some remedies; also extracted from NAPIER'S Practice-books. f. 107^{ab}.

2. References to NAPIER'S Practice-books, from 1600 to 1635, under these heads:—"Haunted with spirits—Apparitions—Tempted—Madness, distracōn &c. frantick—Bewitched, beworded—Falling sickness—Mopish, fearefull—Troubled in mind—Tempted to destroy themselves—Lunatick." f. 108—111^b.

These four sheets were fairly written by Ashmole.

VII. 1. A confession and solemn prayer, to be used before the beginning of 'this worke;' ending thus—"even soe I, R. N[APIER] the sonne of Alexander and An Burchley, thy poor servant." f. 112^{ab}.

On the second leaf of this sheet is now fixed a torn parchment leaf, of the quarto size, containing—

2. A prayer or blessing from all harm, ghostly and bodily; by NAPIER. f. 113^b.

3. An other deprecation from all evils. f. 114^a.
Also written on parchment, but not by Napier's hand.

4. An other, with a special regard to "Raphaell + one of the Archangels of almighty God." f. 115^a.

Written by an unknown hand, on one page of this leaf as folded in quarto.

5. Charm against the tooth-ache. f. 116^a.

Notes from or about "Liber Salomonis, Cephar Raziel; 1564." f. 116^{ab}.

By a different hand, (Sir R. Napier's?) but the same as the next paper. See No. 1730, ii. art. 37.

6. "An excellent and approved experiment of Ascanell, w^{ch} will appeare in a glasse, christall, stone, or berill, with a garland of yellowe flowers upon his head." f. 118^a.

7. Charms "To heale any impostume or swelling, any wounde or other greevous old sore hard to be cured;" and "For bewitching, forespeaking, or the falling-sickness." f. 119^a.

8, 9. Two other copies of the same two charms. f. 120^a, 121^a.

Written also by the same hand.

10. "Meditations and holy prayers called the Gifte of the Holly Ghoste—entituled upon the alphabet of 15 letters, conteynyng 15 presepits" etc. f. 122^a.

The title is much longer than all these 15 short sentences; written by an old hand.

11. "Hic incipit ars artium, quæ primum scripta fuit per Regem Salomon." etc. Or, prayers and devout exercises to be used at the invocation and appearance of Angels. f. 123^a, 124^{ab}.

By an unknown old hand.

12. "The manner of gatheringe the hassell rods commonly called virgulæ divinæ;" and invocations at the time of using them. f. 125^{ab}.

Later written than any of the foregoing papers, and seemingly in Ashmole's time.

VIII. Private and other papers, written by ASHMOLE: viz.—

1. A general form of private prayer. f. 127^a, 128^a.

2. A prayer for wisdom. f. 129^a.

3. Three short notes for prayer. f. 130^a.

4. Notes chiefly in short hand, relating to medicine, as "Piony rootes for the falling sickness" etc. f. 131^a.

5. Of things 'good to drive away devills from any house;' namely—perforata minor, and the gall of any fish; and how used. f. 132^a.

6. Two figures, set 12 and 13 Oct. 1673, to know whether his money lying at interest ought to be kept so or turned into gold, and whether the House of Commons should successfully settle the Protestants' religion; with judgements under-written by LILLY. f. 133^{ab}.

The latter question was 'proposed by Sr Robert Howard.' This paper was found in No. 1743.

7. Historical notes concerning the origin of the parish of S. Clement Danes, and of the palace of S. James at Westminster; also of the sentence against Lady Kath. Gray, pronounced 12 May 1562. f. 134^a.

This sheet was found loose in No. 860; within it is now fixed a leaf, on which are—

8. Notes concerning Ashmole's manor of Bradfield in Berkshire, from records of Edward I., and that Latham in Midd. is a vicarage under Westminster Abbey. f. 135^a.

IX. "Catalogus Librorum Chemicorum;" or, a short catalogue of the chief contents of some of ASHMOLE'S Alchemical MSS., written by himself. f. 138^a—143^a.

Namely, No. 759, 1415, 1420, 1487, etc. This is a book of 6 sheets of small folio paper, within a cover of blue paper, (ff. 137, 151), on the front of which is written the above title. (See also No. 1506, viii.) Within the latter cover is now placed a leaf, on which are written, by the same hand as No. 1097,— Quædam "Rog: Baconis opera, 2 vol:" nominatim recensita. f. 150^a.

Indorsed thus by Ashmole—"MS: in Mr: Scotts hand." This paper was found in No. 1484.

X. I. "Index to Mr REA'S Flora, printed 1676;" or, a table of all the plants therein described, in their Latin names; from p. 14 to p. 168; written by ASHMOLE. f. 152^a, (pp. 11,) 152^b—7^b.

2. "Catalogue of Flowers in the Garden of Henry the 4th French King;" or, a table of the contents of a work describing them, from 'fol. 1' to 73; written by ASHMOLE. f. 158—160^b.

These two articles, fairly written on 3 sheets and 2 sheets of paper, were found loose in No. 1502.

No. 1791.

Codex valde speciosus, formæ foliaris pergamenea continens folia 209, cum amplis marginibus; nitidissimo caractere Gothico-Romano scriptus, sæculo XVto, cum multis literis capitalibus (præcipue in prima pagina) pulcherrime depictis.

LUCI ANNEI SENECE Tragediæ decem, cum Scholiis paucis, et eum Prologo prosaico cuique tragediæ præmisso. ff. 3—207^b.

Prima titulum non habet; prologus ejus manu currente Gallica exaratus est (ut et ista verba super f. 1 versum, "Sequuntur aliqua dicenda super principio libri tragediarum Senecæ") et sic incipit:—In hoc volumine continentur tragediæ decem super factis famosis decem antiquorum virorum, quorum prima Furens Hercules dicitur. Cujus tale est theuma. Hercules filius Jovis ex Almena etc. Sic des.—Almena vero in pariendo ipsum diebus septem.

Extrema in calce habetur ista rubrica, literis capitalibus:—"Explicit feliciter decima et vltima tragedia Lucie Anei Senecæ Deo grās."

Non liquet utrum cum libris vulgatis codex iste fuerit collatus. Intra tegumenti posterioris latus (adversus f. 209^b), eraso nomine paulo antiquiore, nomen snum sic scripsit quidam, "Ludovicus Raginer est possessor hujus libri," et sententias duas. In principio libri benefactoris nostri nomen legitur, sic—"Guilielmus Kingsley, 1685."

No. 1792.

The MS. numbered '6538' can not now be found. It was in folio, and thus described in 1697:—

"Divers Letters from the Privy Council, and Archbishop of Canterbury; and to and from several great Officers of State, in the reign of Q. Elizabeth."

Whether originals or transcripts, it does not appear.

No. 1793.

The MS. numbered '6539' can not now be found. It was in quarto, and thus described in 1697:—

"Manuale Mathematicum D. JO. FINCH, Baronis de FORDWICH, magni sigilli Custodis tempore Car. I., sua manu scriptum."

No. 1794, 1795.

Two original letters, now fixed in No. 1763, f. 58^b, 59^a. They are both on small folio paper, folded four times across the width into a narrow shape, then doubled in the middle, and secured at the open end with a thread of silk-yarn, over which a small signet is impressed on each side: the former is in red wax, and is one leaf only; the second is in black wax, and is a whole sheet.

The following Letter of Queen HENRIETTA MARIA (wife of Charles I.), directed "For mi Lord Finch," in 1642.

"My Lord Finche I have received your letter and I am glad to hier you are araved in a place wheare you have received so muche honor. I doe not doubt but that in any place where you shall goe your merite will make you receive the same: and for my particular you may be asured to find me ever the same you have left me, that is to oblige you in all occations: this is the first letter that I have ever rwyten in engliche: therefore I will not ventur to say ani more but that I am

Your affectionat friend
HENRIETTE MARIE R."

An other Letter "For the Lord Finch," from ELIZABETH, Queen of Bohemia; expressing satisfaction at the improvement of his health; stating that his nephew George could tell him of 'the Countess,' who had 'turned quaker,' and preached daily from a tub; that she was in mourning for the death of her brother, etc. Dated at the Hague, 4 Mar. [1655.]

This curious letter occupies two pages, and is largely but not plainly written. They were both communicated to the Society of Antiquaries in 1826, by Sir Harris Nicolas, K. H., and are printed in the Archæologia, XXI. xxix. p. 476-7.

No. 1796.

A small but thick quarto MS. in wooden covers, containing 201 leaves of vellum: it is written in a small half-text hand, of the end of the XIVth or beginning of the XVth century, and adorned with rubrics and painted capitals. The lower corner of almost every leaf has been eaten off, by some liquid.

1. "In nomine Domini, incipit Tractatus de Spera Solida, sive de Astrolabio Sperico, compositus anno Domini .M^o. 13^o. Tocius astrologie speculationis radix et fundamentum ejus, ejusque prolixitatis immensitas." f. 1-15.

This tract consists of a prologue, and two parts, containing 9 and 14 chapters: it ends thus—"Nunc autem geometricas utilitates que ex cordis sumuntur dicemus. Explicit liber Deo gratias."

2. "Incipit tractatus de mediis conjunctionibus et opposicionibus, et eclipsibus solis et lune. Inter omnes stellarum errancium conjunciones." f. 15-16^b.

Tertium cap. desinit cum his verbis—"invenietur denominacio numeri quociens exeuntis, cum tabulis duabus.

3. Liber dictus Hexaphenon Prognosticationum Temporum; cujus prologus inc. Ad perfectam noticiam judiciorum artis astrologie que natura regulante ex effectibus planetarum oriuntur. f. 17-30^b.

'Capitulum sextum' sic desinit—"ad pristinam se transtulit paupertatem. Explicit exafenon pronosticacionum temporum."

Praeter alias, haec tabulae sunt ad f. 18^b, "Tabula annorum Christi collectorum" ab anno 1176 ad 1296, et inde ad 1416; et "Tabula radicalis mensium ab anno Christi 1296. Londoniensis."

4. "De naturalibus effectibus planetarum. Nota quod omnis plancta proicit radios sue virtutis sperice." f. 30^b-4.

Istae hic occurrunt rubricae—"Prima regula de pluvia. Haec est tabula puteorum. De gelu et nive et grandine. De tonitruo. De terre motu. De stellis in aere apparentibus;" quae partes unius tractatus esse videntur, sic des.—que necessario disponent secunda hujus predicta.

5. Tractatus de vocabulis quibusdam usitatis in astrologia scientia, prout—"Debilitas stellarum est casus, "De impedimento lune," etc. f. 34-36.

In fine—"Dicuntur plancte se respicere (etc.—) respiciat res adjudicabitur.

6. "De introduccione in Judicia Astrologie. Quoniam regulas artis astronomice judicandi non nisi per diversu operu dispersus invenimus." f. 36-8.

Exemplar imperfectum esse videtur, nam operis quadruplex divisio promissa est in fine prologi: at sic desinit post rubricam "De secunda domorum distincione"—"et per sextam duodecimam patebit. Explicit."

7. Regula "Ad proiciendum eclipsim solis. Primo accipiatur vera hora conjuncionis" etc. Etiam Ad sciendum latitudinem stelle ab equinoxiali, cum tabula. f. 38-9, 39^b.

8. "Tabula motus octave spere" pro annis collectis 1500-1890. f. 40^a.

9. Liber MESSAHALACH de Astrolabii descriptione et formatione; inc. Sciendum quod astrolabium sit nomen Grecum cujus interpretaeio est acceptio stellarum. f. 40^b-8^b.

In fine—"hoc modo facies ceteras latitudines regionis ejusdem tabule si Deus voluerit. Finit opus astrolabii secundum MARCELLANIAM benedictus Deus amen." Ita codex iste: sed vide No. 1522, art. 9.

10. Practica Astrolabii:* tractatus incipiens cum haec rubrica,— "Nomina instrumentorum astrolabii haec sunt. Primum est arnulla suspensoria." f. 48^b-55^b.

* Confer No. 1522, art. 10. Des. sic—"talis est comparacio stature tue ad totam planiciem.

11. "Incipit tractatum Novi Quadrantis. Ars et operacio novi quadrantis editi a magistro PREFACIO Judeo Marcilicensis. Operis utilitate et fuccionis facilitate omnia instrumenta ut dicit in prologo suo exccdentis exposita a PETRO DE ADAMARO Parisius diligenter correcti et perfecti. Accipe igitur tabulam eream." f. 55^b-76^b.

Diversum est hoc exemplar ab illo quod in No. 1522, art. 16 habetur, anno 1301 correcto: istud anni 1320 mentionem facit ad f. 67, et paulo post (f. 68) ad additamenta sic transit;—"et vocabuntur almuri id est computatores et sic terminatur ars novi quadrantis. Et sequitur de operis utilitate. Primo quod occurrit docendum." Sic des.—Et multe sunt conclusiones que sciri non poterunt per hoc instrumentum que non dum sunt invente. Tabula longitudinum et latitudinum habetur ad f. 58-9.

12. "Generalis doctrina ad inveniendum qua[m]libet equationem cujuslibet argumenti. Quando oportet intrare bis in aliquam tabulam." f. 76^b—77.
Des.—gradus et fractiones correspondent.
13. De Rotarum vel circularum adaptatione et usu, conclusiones xv., inc. Prima conclusio habitu rota certi numeri denarium equalium. f. 77—83.
Des.—Et nota quod hasta predicta et rota [etc.]—et ibi figuratur corpus solis et cetera. Ad istum articulum forsitan pertinet sequens.
14. Tractatulus de confectione Horologii, seu "Quantitas horologii pro sonitu unius cimbe. Dividatur rota pro ponderis dialis in .72. dentes." f. 83^{ab}, 181^a.
Extrema verba sunt—et hec sequens est forma doleorum predictorum. scil. f. 181, quod folium cum f. 182 male transpositum est.
15. "Tabula proporcioni dividens circulum habentem .360. partes equales in quotlibet alias partes equales infra .400. partes pro rotis horologii et aliorum instrumentorum." Cum aliis tabulis similibus. f. 181^b—2^b, 84^a, 84^b—90.
16. Tabulæ mediorum motuum etc. planetarum, post Tabulas Toletenses Regis Alphonsi faciliores factæ, et ad meridiem civitatis Oxon. adaptatæ; cui præmissæ sunt præfatiuncula (sic inc. In nomine domini nostri Jesu Cristi. Volentibus futuros effectus planetarum in istis inferioribus pronosticare.), et 'conclusiones' septem. f. 90^b—94, 94^b—111^b.
"Conclusio septima" sic claudit—dico igitur in hoc casu quod Scorpion .10. gr. 21. m. est ascendens et cetera.
17. "Ars componendi tabulam diversitatis aspectus in quovis climate. Prima linea que est linea numeri continet omnes horas equales" et alia. f. 112—3^b.
Extrema sunt verba—et nota hoc pro opere subtilissimo.
18. Tabulæ, in quarum fine dicitur quod—"Per istas tabulas debent dividi omnes rote pertinentes ad instrumentum de motibus omnium planetarum" etc. f. 114—6^b.
19. De formatione et usu duorum Instrumentorum ad capiendum altitudinem; inc. Fiat triangulus rectangulus quod est triangulus .udc. f. 116^b—118.
Alternum quadratum est, vide f. 117^b. In fine—et exhibit idem scilicet .54. et cetera.
20. Liber de instrumento Albion vocato, in quatuor partes divisus; quarum prima, '24' comprehendens conclusiones, ita inc. Albion est geometricum instrumentum Almanac autem arismetrium: utrumque tamen eisdem artibus licet imparibus adinventum. f. 118—159.
"Incipit secunda pars Albionis" (30 capp.) f. 129.
"Incipit pars tertia de modo operandi per instrumentum." ('Utilitates' 42.) f. 141.
"Explicit pars tertia tractatus Albionis. Incipit pars quarta Albionis adjecta pro errore vitando in compositione." f. 150.
Tabulæ veri motus planetarum, f. 151—9; tum—
- "Prologus in artem componendi Instrumentum Rectangulum. Rectangulum in remedium tediosi et difficilis operis armillarum eodem tempore quo composuimus Albion, hoc est sub annis Christi .1326. concepimus ad rectificandum" etc. f. 159^b—165.
Post cap. 5, "Explicit ars componendi rectangulum. Incipit ars operandi cum illo. Prefacio. Rectangulus omnium circularum." f. 162. Cap. 10 ita claudit—quia etiam per ea que jam dicta sunt sufficienter docili discipulo patet via ad omnia ea que per cetera instrumenta sciri possunt ponimus hic finem. si Deus voluerit amen.
Sequitur in calce alphabetum, cum literarum nexibus quibusdam, et hoc versiculo totum alphabetum in se comprehendente,— "Equore cum gelido zephirus fert exennia kymlus."
21. Brevis tractatulus de Astrolabii confectione, cum duabus ejus figuris: inc. Cum habueris tabulam stellarum fixarum factam ad longitudinem. f. 165^b—6^b, 167^{ab}.
In fine—et iste est modus curtissimus verificandi stellas secundum astronomos subtiles et sapientes. Explicit."
22. Alius tractatus Astrolabii (ut videtur) seu, "Pro compositione motus solis in rotis. Inicium operis est ut operarius habeat tabulam proporcioni." f. 168—71.
Finit sic—et capitis draconis et stellarum fixarum in locis eorum.
23. Alia quædam de Astrolabio: inc. Memorandum quod in isto instrumento sol movetur. f. 171^b—172.
Des.—tota nostra operacio pro capite draconis.
24. Quædam de temporis mensuratione et anni computatione: inc. De .564. atomis semper unam facies momentum. et de .40. momentis unam horam.* f. 172^b.
* MS. actonis. In fine versus Ovidii—Principium capiunt Phebus et annus idem.
25. "Liber quem edidit TEBIT filius Chorci de hijs que indigent expositione antequam legatur

28. Excerptum e PTOLEMEI Almagesti, præmissis schematibus quibusdam, (f. 179^{ab}), sic inc.—
"Cognito vero gradu stelle in ecliptica et latitudine ejus ab ecliptica, docet Tholomeus in .80. libro almagesti cap. 5^{to}. cognoscere gradum cum quo stella mediat celum et latitudinem ejus ab ecliptica, per unam demonstrationem que presupponit noticiam demonstrationis de catho quam ponit in .120. cap. primo libro almagesti. Ponam igitur in primo cap. Tholomeum de verbo ad verbum, set ubi inveneris aliquam litteram subtractam scias illam esse glosam liniarem ejusdem textus. Demum ad melius cognoscendum etc. f. 180^{ab}.

Notandum est quod ff. 181—2 pertinent ad artt. 14—15, et duo seqq. vacant, ut et ff. 187—8, præter literas quasdam capitales rudi calamo inscriptas.

29. Tabula, absque titulo. f. 185—6^b.

30. Si habueris declinationem alicujus stelle a circulo equinoxiali faciliter et certe investigare poteris latitudinem ejusdem stelle a via solis que ecliptica dicitur, per demonstrationem GEBER in fine libri sui. etc. f. 189^{ab}.

Des. sic—per ortum circuli directi repertum—imperfecte, amisso folio sequente, ut videtur.

31. “Tabula veri motus solis in anno bisextili,” et in aliis tribus annis. f. 190—1^b.

Tabulæ planetarum. f. 192—5.

“Tabule ad domificandum, sive ad reducendum celum in duodecim partes pro figura judiciali. Deo gracias.” f. 195^b—7.

Notula (alia manu antiqua scripta) de tabula præcedenti. f. 197^b. Directio pro decoctione ad caput, (recentiori manu). f. 198^a.

32. “Figura lilii et armille suspensorie” (etc.) et figuræ aliorum instrumentorum delineatæ. f. 199^b—201^b.

At ff. 108^b and 160^a of this MS. are written the following notes, “Hic est liber sancti Albani”—“Liber Subsacriste sancti Albani quondam fratris Johannis Loukyu.” Though described in the old Catalogue as Kingsley’s gift, the contrary appears from a note written on the vellum lining of the first cover, viz. “Ex dono Thomæ Barton de Middleton alias Milton juxta Sittingbourne in com: Cant: gen.”

No. 1797—1799.

Three very large folio volumes, bound in rough calf, each containing 160 leaves (or thereabout) of large and stout paper; thus intitled in Lhuyd’s Catalogue, num. 6547:—

“Hortus Siccus, sive collectio Plantarum ab ipso EDUARDO MORGANO facta, ordine alphabetico, bis mille circiter plantarum species exhibens; vol. tribus fol.” I. ff. *1^b, 1—150; II. ff. 1—157; III. ff. *1^b, 1—132.

This work seems to have been begun in the year 1672, from these words on the first page, “first great booke 72.” Prefixed to the first volume are six narrow folio leaves, containing—

(1.) “Catalogus Tom. I. [16]82, 8^{ber} 20.” nomina 910 plantarum præbens, sub literis A—F. (ff. 1—130.) pp. 1—8.

Names of some “Plants found in North Wales,” which are contained in the first volume. p. 12.

At the end are now fixed the following papers:—

(2.) Letter from THO. THORNES to “Mr Edward Morgan liveing att Bodeslen,” requesting some plants, and offering any thing ‘in Leweny gardens;’ with lists of plants. (Lleweny, 20 Sept. 16...) f. 159^a.

With a broken seal of arms. On the back are written by Morgan—

Lists of plants contained in the “Apendix tome y^e first” (ff. 115—132), and in the “Apendix tome y^e 2^d.” (ff. 150—7.) ibid.

(3.) Short letter from ‘Fridgick Von Henrich Dorff’ to “Edw. Morgan at Bod Skallan;” about a book which he sent by a friend, who had not delivered it. f. 159^b.

(4.) Table explaining abbreviated names of authors referred unto in this collection. ib.

(5.) “Num[er]us: Plant[arum]: 10^{ber} [16]85. tome y^e first,” as contained on every leaf, amounting then to ‘851.’ f. 160^a.

(6.) An other account, with the sum of all the plants in the three volumes, in 1684; namely, ‘2474.’ ib.

(7.) “Grasses in y^e 2^d tome.” ib.

On the back of this paper is—

An account of eight several robberies committed on Morgan’s property, from 9 Oct. 16..., to 16 Oct. following. ib.

Prefixed to the third volume is a—

(8.) Catalogue of 534 plants contained in “the 3^d tome 1672, [enlarged in] 9^{ber} [16]82;” also in the “App. tome y^e 3^d Febr. [16]80.” (ff. 115—132.) pp. 1—10, 12.

An other Hortus Siccus of Mr. Morgan’s is at No. 1502; see also No. 1465.

No. 1800—1803.

Four folio volumes bound in calf, containing respectively 80, 114, 90, and 104 leaves, of large and stout paper; thus lettered on the back:—

“D. G. WHELERI Hortus Siccus;” seu Plantæ aridæ, cum nominibus eorum ascriptis, quatuor voluminum foliis agglutinatæ. I. ff. 7^a—74^a; II. ff. 7^a—107^a; III. ff. 7^a—85^a; IV. ff. 7^a—97^a.

They are pasted by three or four together on alternate pages, but not so numerous as in Morgan’s collection: their names are very fairly written. At the beginning of the first volume is now fixed the back of a letter, found loose at f. 43, thus addressed to the author:—“To the revd Sir Geo. Wheler, at his house in Chauuel-Row in Westminster, London, these.”

No. 1804.

A folio MS, written about the year 1400, (or a little earlier,) on 104 leaves of vellum, in columns, and adorned with rubrics and painted capitals.

1. “Maundeville,” * ou les Voyages de monsieur JOHAN DE MAUNDEVILLE, et l’histoire des merveilles, les quelles il vit dans l’orient: com. Come il ensi soit que la terre doutre meer cestassavoir la terre seinte. f. 1—42^d.

*The author's surname is thus written with rubric over the first page. The last chapter in this copy is intitled—"Des custums des Rois demorantz es Isles cousteantz ala terre prestre Joh'n et del honor qe le filz fait a souu pere et miere." (f. 41^b.) It ends with a short Latin dedication to Edward III. having this rubric—"La copie de la l're mande ovesque cest escript a tresnoble Prince monsire E. de Wyndesore Roy Dengleterre et de France per monsire JOH' DE MAUNDEVILLE auctor suisdit." f. 42^c.

This MS. was marked No. '769' at the foot of the first page: but the copy of the work, in the volume properly so numbered, is in Latin.

2. "Hic incipiunt versus cujusdam Laici in extremis positi;" seu rectius Prophetia JOHANNIS BRIDLINGTONENSIS, metro leonino: inc. Febribus infectus requies fuerat mihi lectus. f. 42^d—46^d.

Des.—"Ad mortem tendo morti mea carmina pendo. Hic finiunt versus cujusdam in extremis positi qui sunt in numero tot et tanti. Summa versuum predictorum tricesies et quater viginti et tres. Explicit sic totum." This MS. was unknown to Tanner: see his Bibl. Brit. p. 125.

The two next leaves are vacant.

3. Le Cronique nommé LE BRUT, en 225 chapitres; ou l'histoire d' Angleterre jusqu' au temps du Roy Edward III.; dont le prologue com. "Ci poet homme oir coment Engleterre fust primes nommee Allyone: et per qi receust cel noun. En le noble terre de Surrie ert un noble Roi poestifs de tresgraunt renoun que out a noun Diodicias." f. 49—104^d.

The text of this copy seems to agree with the two Royal MSS. 20 A. III. and 19 C. IX., which are noticed in the description of the Arundel MS. 31, in W. H. Black's Catalogue, p. 57—8: the metrical prologue, peculiar to the other text, is not here.

The last chapter begins and ends thus:—"Coment le Roi Edward acrocha a ly graciosement les hommages et les foialtez Descoce douit il estoit forsclos par le conseil sa miere et le Counte de March. cc.xxxv. Oy avez seignours come sire Johan de Baillol" (f. 102^a)—e cel heure attendierent les estes en viaunce qi les en a force serroient occiz ou noiez.

No. 1805.

A folio MS. fairly written and ingrossed on 97 leaves of paper, and bound in stamped vellum: it was formerly marked 'F. 16.' The 80th leaf is mutilated.

"A perfect Collection aswell of all the Grauntes of her Mat^{es} Offices together withe the Fees and Duties unto them belonging, disposed and bestowed by her highnes from the first yeare of her Mat^{es} raigne" to the nineteenth year, inclusively. (1558—1577.) ff. 1—97.

This valuable Calendar, extracted from the Calendar of the Patent-Rolls, is in Latin: the entries are 4 or 5 on every page, in the following form:

"Decimo tercio die Decembris. [Anno primo.]

"Regina concessit Joh'i Asteley officium Magistri sive Thesaur' Jocalium suorum, cum feod' III. per annum &c. durante beneficio."

The days of the month are not noticed, after 20 June, anno 17, f. 90. Over the title is the autograph of Baron "Lumley;" and the following note, written by an old hand within the cover, shows the name of the giver:—"Musæo Ashmoleano D. D. Richardus-Myddelton Massey."

No. 1806.

A thin folio volume, containing two MSS. on paper; the first consists of 30 leaves, fairly written (except the 2 first) at separate times in the course of the transactions recorded.

I. A Journal of the "Proceedings of Parliament, 167^g;" containing the transactions and debates in the House of Commons, from 6 March to 27 May 1679. ff. 3—8^b, 13—20^b.

Between two pages numbered 6 and 7, is inserted a copy of the—

"Articles of impeachment of high treason and other high crimes and offences ag^t W^m Earle of Powis, W^m Viscounte Stafford, Henry Lord Arrundell of Warder, W^m Lord Petre, and and John L^d Bellasis, now in the Tower of London." f. 9—12.

"Reasons offered to the Lords by the House of Commons, concerneing the Lords in the Tower." f. 27—30.

II. "Observations Rules and Orders, collected out of divers Journalls of the House of Commons, entred in the severall reignes of Kinge E[d]ward the 6^o. Queene Mary, Queene Elizabeth, and Kinge James. With a Declaration* of the Commons drawne up by a select Committee in the first yeare of Kinge James, concerneing their priviledge." With "The Table" of heads prefixed. ff. 32^a, 32^b—4; (pp. 92, 27,) 35—82, 84—96.

* Or 'Protestation,' as it is called at f. 84. This MS. is fairly written in secretary-hand, within margins ruled off with red lines.

No. 1807.

Two thin folio MSS. on paper, (ff. 100,) written in the XVIIth century: the former is in a scrivener's hand, with good margins; the latter is more closely written, yet fairly: they were discolored by dust, before they were put into a parchment cover.

I. "Astrostreon, or a Discoverie of the fallinge of the Planets: wherein by the true though strange discoverie of the caelestiall orbs and manner of there action upon inferiour subjects, that rumor with his consequence is subjected to the censure of ye simplest, vulger Astromancie examined and true Plusi[o]logic confirmed; with an astrophisicall Prediction of the state of theis 70 yeares next cominge, from certaine notable positures of orbs and their configuration, happeninge within the same. By EDWARD GRESHAM Mathematician." ff. 1^a, 2—58.

There is an other copy in No. 192, ii

II. "Artificiall alligations and suspentions shewing the conjunction of Art and Nature, making the proccesse from the celestiall to the terest[r]iall orbe, conjoining the celestiall agent to the terest[r]iall patient, by the naturall mediums, or the Microcosme corecting the difficiency of the Macrocosme, and extenuating the phisi-magickall vertues of the vegitable kingdome to the extirpation of the naturall infirmities and diseases of the body of man, by externall contact. With an abbreviation of Aurum Potabile. By W^m FREEMAN, etat 22. Student in phisicke and astrologie, and the more occult sciences." ff. 59^a, 60^a, 61—97.

After the title is "The epistle to the reader," dated "From my house in Bedford, Febr. 12. 1653." This MS. appears to be the original.

On the fly-leaf over against the title of the first MS. is this note by an old hand:—"These treatises are to be sent to the Theatrum Ashmoleanum in Oxford." They had probably been borrowed of Ashmole, in his life-time.

No. 1808.

A thin folio volume, bound in parchment, containing 67 leaves of paper, more than half of which is vacant.

"Grammatica Mallayo-Anglica. The Mallayan Grammar, composed by W^m esq^r. 1682." With a dedication "To the hon^{ble} Sr Josiah Child Baron^t. Govern^r to the R^t hon^{ble} the East-India Comp^a." (dated London, 5 Aug. 1682), and a preface. ff. 2^a, 3—4, 5—6; (pp. 45) 7—29.

Appendix (ff. 30—35):—

The points of the Mariners Compassee" in the Malayan language. p. 47.

"Java Alphabet." p. 49.

"Macassar Alphabet." p. 51.

The Chinese numeral words and figures, from 1 to 1,000,000; and a short Anglo-Chinese vocabulary. p. 33—4, 55—7.

In this grammar the words are written both in the Arab-Malayan, and in the English character.

No. 1809.

A curious book in narrow folio, being 15 inches high, and 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ wide, consisting of 78 leaves of thick black paper, so folded as to open alike at back and front, and capable of being spread out as a roll. The covers are of japanned wood, painted red and black; and the two extreme leaves are pasted on their inner side.

Mercantile Accounts kept by WILLIAM SMYTH,* in the year 1664, seemingly in the East Indies.

* "W^m Smyth his booke given him per Mr W^m Acworth, Febe ye 19th 1668." This note is written within one of the covers, and is done with chalk pencil, as also all the writing in this book. One of the folds having been broken, the book unfortunately falls asunder at that place.

No. 1810—1812.

These folio volumes, uniformly bound in rough calf, contain respectively 120, 130, and 102 leaves. The two first are very distinctly written on alternate pages, but great part of the second is vacant.

VOL. I. II. — Journal of the Proceedings of the PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY of OXFORD, written by WILLIAM MUSGRAVE, M. A. Fellow of New College; in two volumes;—('A') "The Minutes of ye Oxford Society beginning October y^e 26th 1683," and reaching to 14 April 1685; also ('B') from 23 April 1685, to 26 June 1688; with draughts* of the unregistered minutes of 23 April, 6 May, and 3 June 1690. I. ff. 1—110; II. ff. 1—52, 53^a, 54^a, 55^a.

* On a sheet and a half of smaller folio paper, inserted after f. 52. An other sheet is fixed on the last of five blank leaves at the beginning of 'A', containing—

Eight Rules of the Society "Order'd Octob. 23. 1651."

At ff. 23^a, 24^a, are recorded the Rules that were framed by Drs. Wallis, Bathurst, Smith, Plot, Pit, and Mr. Bernard, (appointed for that purpose,) and subscribed with the autographs of thirty-five members of the Society, as they here follow.

" John Wallis.	N: Crouch.
Ralph Bathurst.	Hen: Pigot.
Hen. Beeston.	Ar. Charlett.
Tho. Smith.	Steph. Hunt.
Rob. Plot.	Maurice Wheeler.
W ^m Gibbons.	Edm: Entwisle.
Edward Bernard.	Thomas Creech.
Jos. Pullen.	Hugo Todd.
Joh: Caswell.	John Benbrigg.
Tho: Pigot.	J (?) Cuninghame.
Sam. Des Maistres.	Alex: Pudsey.
Jo. Ballard.	Caspar Marcke.
William Musgrave.	James Anderton.
H: (St. ?) Welsted.	John Cooke.
John Massey.	Anth: Farmer.
Joshua Walker.	Tho: Ifay.
Tho: Lane.	Robert Cowcher."
Will: Levett.

These "Articles agreed upon for regulating ye Soc." (as they are called in vol. III. f. 14,) are also recorded on the fourth and fifth of six blank leaves at the beginning of vol. II. (or 'B'), with the signatures of Charles Standard, William Deedes, Christopher Pitt, and Thomas Lulford.

These interesting volumes were exhibited to the British Association, at its second meeting, holden in Oxford, in June 1832. See the Second Report, p. 101. Some notices of the establishment of this Society may be found in the autobiography of its President, the venerable Dr. Wallis, printed by Hearne in his Langtoft, p. clxiii—iv.: it has now revived in the Ashmolean Society, which met at first in the same place,—the Laboratory under the Museum.

VOL. III. — An alphabetical Index to the Journals and Correspondence* of the Philosophical Society of Oxford; with introductory observations on its construction; by Mr. Secretary MUSGRAVE. ff. 1^b—2, 3—102.

* The next MS. This book is fairly written, and has ample space left for enlargement.

No. 1813.

VOL. IV.—The ‘LETTER BOOKS A and B;’ containing the original Correspondence of the Philosophical Society of Oxford, namely—(‘A’) 23 letters to Dr. Robert Plot, from 24 Mar. 1681, to 25 Oct. 1683, and many to Mr. Secretary Musgrave, from 1 Nov. 1683, to 4 July 1685; also (‘B’) a collection of letters chiefly to and from Dr. Wallis in 1686 and 1687, and various papers communicated unto the Society in those two years, with one letter to Dr. Plot in 1690. ff. or pp. 1—275, 276—331.

These letters are pasted down on narrow mounting-leaves; they were formerly in two books, but are now within one pair of covers; and the irregular numeration of the former is now continued through the latter part, which has been much confused. The contents of this volume are very miscellaneous and interesting: the subjects are, as it seems, all referred to in the Index, vol. III. No. 1812.

No. 1814—1817.

Two portfolios resembling No. 1813, and a pair of rough leather covers, into all which the letters are pasted singly, beside many that are loose; also a large bundle of papers within an antient parchment wrapper.

Reliquiæ Lhuydianæ. Volumes I.—IV.

The Correspondence of EDWARD LHUYD, M. A., consisting of very numerous letters addressed to him from 1691, when he was appointed Keeper of the Ashmolean Museum, (and some earlier,) until his death in 1709; including original answers to his printed ‘Parochial Inquiries’ relative to the Topography of Wales, some of which are in Welsh.

These letters seem to have been arranged by Whiteside or Huddesford his successors, in the order of time; but they are now in a very disorderly state, a new arrangement having been some years ago attempted by Mr. Dunbar.

No. 1818, 1819.

Two similar portfolios, one containing 91, the other 43 articles.

Reliquiæ Lhuydianæ. Volumes V. VI.

Political pamphlets and papers, Parliamentary lists, Proclamations, Tracts and Poems, and papers relating to the University of Oxford; collected and bound in two folio volumes.

Among these printed articles are the following in MS.—

VOL. V.—30. A short Discourse “Of Heresy, written (tis said) by THO. HOBBS;” beginning thus—The word heresy is Greeke, and signifies a taking of any thing, and particularly y^e taking of an opinion. pp. 4.

Written on the 3 first pages, and the fifth page, of two folio sheets of paper, in a small and upright hand, like to Dr. Hyde’s; on the back are some calculations by Huddesford’s hand.

75. “The presentment of y^e grand Jury of y^e County of Southampton, at y^e assizes held at y^e castle of Winton. Mar. 6. 171⁶/₇,” against the Warden, Fellows and Scholars of Winchester College, ‘for their known disaffection and corruption of manners.’

A fair transcript on the first page of a sheet; the Jurors’ names are on the second page.

VOL. VI.—List of “The contents of this volume,” written by HUDDESFORD. ff. 2.

15. THO. TYMME’s ‘Epistle dedicatorie’ to Thomas Baker esq., written in short hand by ASHMOLIE.

Same as No. 1459, p. 469; see the last note on that MS. On a paper fixed on the back of this sheet is written also by him,—

Notula de Joanne Dee, cum eteosticho anni 1639, ut videtur; cui ista subscripsit Ashmolius—

“Lucerna Salis Philosophorum I’FHS. fil: Sendivogij. Amsterdam 1658.”

30. “An epistle from ROBT. HUNTINGTON to Dr. Langbaine, in eight languages, Hebrew, Samaritan, Syriac, Chaldee, Arabick and Per-sick (if I mistake not), Greek, and Latin.”

Fairly written in so many compartments on one side of a large spreading sheet; and thus indorsed by Lhuyd: it seems to be a transcript.

32. Old English verses on the labors of Hercules; beg. The famous factes which poetes feyne Hercules to atchive. (18 lines.)

Fairly ingrossed on a large quarto leaf of vellum, in or about the time of Henry VIII.

33. “Part of a Lr from Dr Plot, dated Lond. 8ber the 5th 1695,” about the proprietorship of the furnaces under the Museum.

The original from which this extract was made, may perhaps be found in the collection of Lhuyd’s correspondence.

43. Sketch of a table with notes, exhibiting the “Elements of Architecture.”

On one side of a folding sheet, seemingly by AUBREY’s hand; indorsed as above, and—“Let Rob. Wiseman goe for the author of it.”

No. 1820.

A large portfolio, containing an assemblage of papers of different sizes, and written by different hands.

Reliquiæ Lhuydianæ. Volume VII.

Papers written or collected by EDWARD LHUYD, including some pieces by the hands of Dr. PLOT, Mr. AUBREY, and others; Letters from various persons, Papers relating to the Ashmolean Museum, and original Answers to his Welsh Parochial Inquiries.

Prefixed to this interesting collection, is a—

List of “The contents of this volume,” by HUDDESFORD.

No. 1821.

A smaller portfolio, not so full as the foregoing, and containing a like collection of papers, but for the most part later than Lhuyd's time.

Reliquiæ Lhuydianæ. Volume VIII.

1. Catalogus instrumentorum bellicorum atque civilium, et omnis generis supellectilis antiquariæ, quæ in Museo Ashmoliano (ut videtur) olim erat reposita: LHUYDI manu. ff. 1^a—5^a, 8^a—31^a.

Written on alternate pages in quarto. Interposed is a torn folio—

2. Letter from RICHARD GRAVES 'to Mr John Whiteside, Keeper of the Museum, Oxon.' about a stick brought from the East Indies by his grandfather Capt. Rich. Swann, which he gave to the Museum, (Mickleton, 13 Apr. 1723); with an extract about the bird of paradise, from John Swan's Speculum Mundi, (Cambr. 1643, 4^o. second ed.) and remarks thereon. f. 6^b, 7^a.

3. "Mr LETHI[E]ULLIER's Catalogue. 1753;" or "A list of natural bodies which I would send," written with his own hand. f. 34—5.

4. "Mr. PENNANT's Catalogue. 1759;" or a list of 49 minerals and fossils, given by him to the Museum, directed "To the rev^d Mr Huddesford at — Coventry," and franked by "A. Mostyn." f. 36—7.

5. Catalogue of minerals given by Mr Angerstein. f. 38—9.

He was a Swede, (see his Letters to Lhuyd,) not a Swiss, as it is stated in Huddesford's note at the end, where he observes that they were removed from 'Mr Lhuyd's cabinet below stairs,' and in 1760 were put in the windows.

6. Letter from W^m BORLASE, (to Huddesford?) containing a list of coins sent therewith to the Museum, when its collection of coins was being newly arranged. (8 Sept. 1766.) f. 40^{ab}.

The outer leaf is lost.

7. Nummorum Romanorum Catalogus. f. 41.

Neatly written by an old hand, on both sides of one sheet, which spreads out into four pages, or 8 columns.

8. Letters and other abbreviations denoting geographical references. f. 42^a.

By Lhuyd's hand?

9. Letter from G. WOODWARD to Whiteside, with 5 copies of his lately printed book, for himself, the Dean, Dr. Charlett, Dr. Lasher, and Mr. Hearne; also with a print of his 'ancient votive shield,' for the Museum. (Gresham Coll. 12 Nov. 1718.) f. 43^a.

Directed on f. 43^a. The print is framed, and hangs on the staircase of the upper library.

10. Directions for making "Mellencolly-watter." f. 44^a.

Written about the time of James I. on a half sheet of paper, thus indorsed.

At the end of this volume are now placed two small quarto books, which are original Catalogues of some departments of this Museum, thus intitled on their covers:—

(A.) "Account of y^e coins missing before y^e year 1715; in Mr WHITESIDE's hand."

(B.) "Liber Professoris Med. Reg."

The ninth volume of Reliquiæ Lhuydianæ is No. 1825.

No. 1822.

A folio volume, consisting of a portfolio filled with original letters, in the same manner as No. 1813.

Two hundred and thirty "Letters from various Correspondents, [to WILLIAM HUDESFORD, M. A. Keeper of the Ashmolean Museum;] from the year 1755," (29 Dec.) to 17 May 1772.

Prefixed is the following—

In the MS. the letters are all numbered with Roman numbers, which are here exchanged for common figures.

No. 1823.

A tall and thin folio volume, containing 44 leaves, bound in paper, with a ticket on the cover bearing this inscription on the cover, in gilt letters:—

“D. D. Gul: Borlase. A. M. F. R. S. 1758.”

The following title on f. *1^a is in the author's own fair hand-writing.

“These Drawings for the Nat. Hist. of Cornwall, (the work of his own hands,) were presented to the Ashmolean Museum by the author, W^m BORLASE, A. M. F. R. S. Rector of Ludgvan, Cornwall, MDCCLVIII.” f. 1—29.

“The Drawings for the Antiquities [of Cornwall] were presented by the author W^m BORLASE, A. M. F. R. S. Nov^r 3. MDCCLXI.” f. 29^b—38.

These original drawings, mostly in ink, exhibiting the county-map, the principal seats, curiosities, and antiquities of Cornwall, were engraved in Borlase's two printed folios, which are also in this Library, presented by himself: they are pasted down on the leaves of this volume. See also the next MS.

No. 1824.

A thin folio volume, containing 36 leaves, bound in rough calf, and bearing a ticket on the cover, thus inscribed in gilt letters:—

“CATAL. BORLASE. 1759.” Or, a Catalogue of “Clays, steatites &c. described in the Natural History of Cornwall, by WILLIAM BORLASE, A. M. F. R. S.” and given by him to the Ashmolean Museum; written by himself, and illustrated with some of the Prints. f. 1^a—22^a.

Prefixes is a sheet of smaller paper, written with equal neatness, thus inscribed:—

A short descriptive Catalogue of six ‘parcels’ of “Native fossils, describ'd in the Natural History of Cornwall, together with other supplemental and explanatory metallic products of the Cornish mines, with great respect presented to the Ashmolean Museum at Oxford, in the year 1758, by W^m: BORLASE.” f. *2—*3.

On the first leaf is an “Index” of the general heads, by a modern hand; and at f. 2^{3^a} is a list of 12 “Specimens from Yorkshire &c. given by ye Rev^d D. Brymer, Wad. Coll.”

Inserted in this book are—

Two letters from BORLASE to Huddesford, describing specimens of native tin and native gold, found by him in Cornwall, and given to the Museum. (Ludgvan, 4 Nov. 1765; the other dateless.) f. 16^b, 35^a.

No. 1825.

A small quarto volume, in covers of single parchment, and much worn, containing 168 pages, beside two leaves at the beginning.

Reliquiæ Lhuydianæ. Volume IX.

1. EDVARDI LHUYDII SENIORIS liber electarum periocharum, inter studia juvenilia scriptus; in quo habentur “Sententiæ illustres ex Seneca philosopho collectæ,” et “Sententiæ ex satyri: Euphromionis Lusini collectæ.” pp. 1—79, 81—95.

*2. Familiar and elegant “Letters written on divers occasions to severall people of qualitie,” by EDWARD LHUYD, esq. of Llanvolda, from 1647 to 1653. pp. 103—165, 96—102.

The writer of this volume was, as it seems, the father of the Keeper of this Museum: he was a Royalist, and suffered greatly in the Civil Wars, as it appears from these interesting letters, which are addressed in the following names.

1. Col. M. Turvon. p. 103—4.
2. Mr J; Kyffin. 105.
3. Mr Tho: Challoner at Overton. 106.
- 4, 5. “To my deare sister Mrs Sarah Edwards, Brinkynalt.” 107, 108.
6. Lady Ann Harnes. 109.
7. G[eorge] B. esq. at Holt. 110—1.
- 8, 24, 26. “Sr Rich: Price, Baronet, at his Cogarthan,” 111—2. Sr R: P: 136—7; also 139—40.
9. “Mr Challoner the schoolmaster.” 112—3.
- 10, 15. Col. Andrew Lloyd at Aston. 113—4, 120—1.
11. “To ye honbl. the Committee for Salop.” about compounding for his estate. 114—5.
- 12, 18. Mrs Frances Lloyd at Lanvolda, 116—7; at Salop, 123—5.
13. Sr A: A: 117—8.
14. Col. R[obin]: Ellis. 119—20.
16. To about public affairs. 121—2.
- 17, 25, 32. Mr Justice Rog: Evans, (or Cozen Evans), 121—123; 137—8, dated—“The first day of ye first tearme yt ever adiornded for ye tryal of a Kinge;” 149, dated—“The last day of ye unfortunate and king-killing yeare: 49.”
19. “For my kinsman Mr R. E.” on public affairs. 125—7.
- 20, 22. To the same? 127—30, 131—3.
- 21, 27, 30, 46. To his mother “Mrs Marie Lettis Lloyd.” 136—1, 141—2; 145—7, dated “August 21: 49: my birth day wech leads me to ye 41th of my age” etc.; 101—2.
23. Cosen Thom: 133—5.
28. To ‘Honest Jack.’ 142—3.
29. “To ye only man of God yt officiats in Llheene, Mr Cadwalader Kyffin.” 144—5.
31. Mrs Baker. 147—8.
33. For Sr E: L: Baronet. 150—1.
34. To the same? 151—2.
35. “To my kinsman T. P. esq. of Onys Cariggod.” 153—4.
36. To the same? 154—7.
37. For J: E: 157—8.
38. “For ye esq. of Oatley.” 159.
39. Mr Rich. Wynn of Pentremorgan. 159—61.
40. “For F: R: R: E: esqs. Bayliffs of Oswestry.” 161—2.
41. “For ye Master of ye Outla[w]ry office.” 163—4.
42. Mr John Evance at ye Lodge, Cardiganshire. 164—5.
43. Mr R[obin]: Evance of Cricketh. 96—7.
44. “Mr Daupart of ye Hays, touching Oswestry Commons.” 98.
45. John Hanmer (cousin). 99.

At the end of the book are written invertedly the following pieces, by the same hand.

3. Translated extract on “Faythfull frendes: [from] Persius, sat. 3.” p. 170.
Sententiolæ quædam, et Ausonii versus aliquot.
p. 169.

An extract from Tacitus. p. 168.

“Selecti ex Johannis Barclaij Argeni flores.”
p. 166.

Part of page 168 has been torn out. On the last page is the impression of a seal of arms (a lion rampant) in red wax. At the end is inserted a paper found loose in the Library, seemingly written by the same hand, and containing—

A classical extract or exercise, headed—‘Αστὸς τὰς μυίας οὐ θηρεύει. p. 171—3.

On the back is written part of the draught of an Index, by Lhuyd.

No. 1826.

A quarto volume, bound in vellum, consisting of 47 leaves of paper ruled with red lines; of which the first 3 and last 16 are vacant. This MS. is fairly written in secretary-hand, and bears this half-title, "Statuta Collegij Medicorum Londini," on f. 4^a.

"STATUTA COLLEGIJ MEDICORUM Londini, per clariss. virum THOMAM LINACRUM et Collegium predictum, regia autoritate incepta atque edita anno Domini 1520. et per JOANNEM CALUM Presidentem, in ordinem redacta, aucta et absoluta, eadem autoritate et Collegio, anno Domini 1555." Cui præmissus est alphabeticus "Index eorum que continentur in hoc libro." ff. 5—8; 9^a, (pp. 41) 10—30.

Juramentum cuique Collegii collegæ præstitum. f. 30^b—1.

This oath is added by an other old hand, the same which has corrected numerous passages of these Statutes. Some of the analytical notes in the margins of this MS. seem to be in the handwriting of the celebrated Dr. Richard Forster, President of the College; whose medical collectanea are in No. 209, ii.

No. 1827.

A small quarto MS., consisting of 199 leaves of vellum, written in the XVth century, and rubrished throughout: ff. 60—64 are vacant. It was formerly marked "B. 10."

1. "Incipit ANATOMIA HENRICI DE AMONDAVA. Primum capitulum est de anatomia membrorum consimilium tam simplicium quam compositorum." f. 1—59^b.

The first words, after the titles of the twelve chapters, are—Membrum est pars corporis solidi. It ends thus—"et est simile laude [rectius lambda] litere Greecæ et figure sequenti A [i. e. 7] in algarismo et c." Explicit anatomia magistri Henrici de Amondava et c." This author is called by Fabricius (Bibl. Lat. Med. Ævi, III. 309, ed. 4to.) Henricus de Amondavila, or Amandi villa, and said to have been the physician of Philip IV. King of France, about 1306.

2. Magistri PETRI DE TAUSIGUAMO Bononiensis, in librum nonum Almansoris commentarius, seu liber 'Receptarum' vel Medicamentorum contra varios morbos: inc. In descriptione receptarum conveniencium congrue novo Almansoris talis ordo servetur. Primo in vti dicentur digestiva humorum tam simplicia quam composita." f. 65—198.

In fine—"Emplastrum mitigativum cujuscuque doloris [etc.]—et applicetur membro dolenti. Explicunt Recepte reverendissimi et famosissimi arcium et medicine doctoris, domini magistri Petri de Tausiguamo de Bononia, compilate Bononie super uno Almansoris, et illustris principis domini, domini Galea Comitum Vertutum, domini Mediolan. etc. et imperialis vicarij bene merito phisici principalis. Deo gratias. Amen."

At the foot of f. 173^b, are the following verses, written with rubric, and glossed in ink; probably by the hand of Dr. JOHN SOMERSET, physician to King Henry VI.

"Hec ego { Spongia linx raphanus et scorpio Juda vel
 lituris
Ales caudatus lepus et pullus sociatus } Somers'."
 { Ut lapidem vacuent: proprietate valeat. }

On the last leaf is an extract from "Bernardus super Cantic. Pauperes sine defectu" (etc.) subscribed "Hec de ypocritis." (f. 199^a.) Almost half of the width of this leaf has been torn off.

No. 1828.

A small octavo volume, bound in black calf, containing 137 pages (the last of which is on the cover) closely and distinctly written in a large upright hand.

Religious reflections and maxims, select texts of scripture, and various observations tending to practical piety, written at sundry times by THOMAS WILSON, Bishop of Sodor and Man:* or, "Private Thoughts of Bishop Wilson, presented to the Ashmolean Library by Lieut. Brett, R.N. 1829." pp. 1—85, 88, 109, 110, 123—5, 128—129, 131, 134—7.

* From 1697 to 1755. The title, or note, given above, is inscribed within the cover. This MS. does not seem to have been used by any editor of the Sacra Privata, or other works of this excellent Prelate.

INDEX TO THE CATALOGUE

OF THE

MANUSCRIPTS OF ELIAS ASHMOLE,

FORMERLY PRESERVED IN THE ASHMOLEAN MUSEUM,

AND NOW DEPOSITED IN THE

BODLEIAN LIBRARY, OXFORD.

Oxford:

AT THE CLARENDON PRESS.

M.DCCC.LXVI.

THE present Index contains references to all names of persons and to every subject noticed in the minute Catalogue of the Ashmolean MSS. compiled by Mr. William Henry Black, and printed at the University Press in 1845. These MSS. have recently been transferred from the Ashmolean Museum to the Bodleian Library. Their value in an heraldic and genealogical point of view is well known; and the Index will, it is hoped, render both the MSS. and the Catalogue which describes them easily available. It must be remembered, however, that the Index is an index to the Catalogue, and not directly to the MSS.; consequently for errors and omissions in description, (if any,) the Editor is not to be held answerable. In the course, however, of continual reference to the originals, necessary in cases of doubt and difficulty, mistakes have in some instances been corrected, and additional entries have been inserted. The names of persons have usually been entered under the forms in which they are found in the MSS.; the exceptions have been when these forms were manifestly erroneous, or when it was desirable to group together all entries relating to persons apparently of the same families. But in all cases particular care has been taken to provide such cross-references from one variety of spelling to the rest, as will prevent any difficulty arising from this cause. The Index is, as far as practicable, compiled in English, because the Catalogue itself is so written; differences of arrangement will therefore of course be found when compared with other Indices already published to collections of MSS. in the Bodleian Library.

For the Index from MS. 698 inclusive to the end of the collection the Editor is indebted to the valuable assistance of Mr. Henry Gough, of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law, the Compiler of the "Index to the Publications of the Parker Society;" for the earlier portion of the Index, and for the revision and superintendence of the whole, the Editor is responsible.

W. D. MACRAY.

one letter from a non-existent brother of the King of Scotland; the origin of this mistake appears to be the use of the term "my brother" in the second document by James IV. with reference to Hen. VIII. This letter appears to correspond in substance with the latter part of the letter described in Mr.
Brewer's Calendar of "Letters and Papers, Foreign and Domestic, of the Reign of Hen. VIII.," vol. i. p. 387, art. 3339, of which it is probably a
